Australia's largest Tertiary Studies & Careers Expo returns to the Brisbane Showgrounds

Students, parents, educators and jobseekers are invited to explore a world of education, training and employment opportunities at the 45th annual Brisbane Tertiary Studies and Careers Expo TSXPO at the Royal International Convention Centre (Royal ICC), at the Brisbane Showgrounds this Friday and Saturday.

Australia's largest and longest running Tertiary Studies and Careers Expo, TSXPO brings together more than 60 exhibitors including universities, TAFE, private colleges, employers, industry associations, apprenticeship and trainee providers, and defence and career support services all under one roof.

Whether visitors are planning tertiary study, exploring apprenticeships, changing careers, or seeking employment, TSXPO provides access to expert advice and valuable face-to-face interactions with organisations shaping Australia's future workforce.

Seminars include Human-Centred careers in the age of AI, How to ace medical interviews, Tips from a high ATAR achiever, and careers in the Australian Defence Force.

Brisbane Showgrounds General Manager of Venue Sales and Marketing Jago Coyle said visitors would have the opportunity to attend free interactive sessions with industry leaders and educators who will help to demystify admissions processes and highlight emerging opportunities in a variety of sectors.

"This is a great opportunity for students who may be tossing up a few options ahead of QTAC applications opening next month," he said.

Mr Coyle said the Brisbane Showgrounds was excited to host Australia's largest tertiary studies and careers expo and welcome thousands of Queenslanders to the Showgrounds precinct across the two days.

The Brisbane Tertiary Studies and Careers Expo TSXPO incorporating the QLD Work & Skills Expo will be held on Friday 17 from 9am to 2pm and Saturday 18 July 2026 from 10am to 3pm at the Royal ICC, Brisbane Showgrounds. Admission is free. Visit TSXPO for more information.
